Effective Date: May 1, 2017

A. BACKGROUND

As required by State Senate-substitute House Bill 3077 (year 2000), Workforce Snohomish maintains “demand/decline” list of occupations and skill sets that are in high demand and those that are declining in Snohomish County area. The demand/decline list, is used to advise job seekers interested in training and approve or disapprove local training requests and payments for the following:

- Office of Administrative Hearings
- Unemployment Insurance Funded Training Benefits
- Unemployment Insurance Commissioner Approved for Training
- WorkFirst Funded Training
- Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act Title I Funded Training
- Any other training activities identified and funded by Workforce Snohomish.

B. POLICY

Workforce Snohomish supports job seeker and employer empowerment through informed choice so that training leads to secure employment, wage progression, job retention, and self-sufficiency for training participants. The demand/decline list will be used by subrecipients, contractors and partners to inform job seeker choices regarding training and to approve training requests. Training for occupations that are “in demand” on the list will be prioritized.

Workforce Snohomish staff review and update the list using information provided by the Labor Market and Economic Analysis division of Employment Security, for approval by the Workforce Solutions Committee. Designated staff may make and publish changes to the list based on changes in the local economy, such as mass lay-offs, at any time, as needed.

Subrecipients, contractors and others may approve funding for training in jobs that are listed as “balanced” or “in decline” based on specific criteria.
